The Sikh Helpline

The Sikh Helpline continues to receive a high volume of nationwide calls, issues ranging from grooming, domestic abuse through to racism and substance addiction and more recently an increase in call relating to suicide of young members of the community. Due to cultural barriers and protection of “honour” within the community, such victims suffer in silence. With an understanding of these cultural issues and barriers, The Sikh Helpline offers a support network for these victims.

Last year’s Sikh Helpline bike ride raised just over £30,000. Your selfless seva and generous donations have allowed the Sikh Helpline to employ an Admin and Outreach worker, Sukhi Kaur. Sukhi Kaur has been working on new project initiatives and the recruitment of volunteers for these projects. She had also been working with external stakeholders to broaden and strengthen collaborations with specialist services.

For the 2019 Sikh Helpline bike ride, cyclists will be crossing the finish line at the final Gurdwara in Wolverhampton after pedaling up to 24miles! Cyclists will be raising money towards this year’s £40,000 target, for the Sikh Helpline because "Every Call Matters; that missed call may have been their only chance to make a call"

We need you!

New Member of Staff

The Sikh Helpline would like to welcome our new member of staff Sukhi Kaur.

Sukhi Kaur's Statement

Waheguru ji ka khalsa, Waheguru ji ke fateh.

I would like to begin by introducing myself my name is Sukhi Kaur I started this year with the grace of god I hope to meet you all in the near future and look forward to working with you all.

Just a little bit about myself I have previously worked in customer based settings with adults and children, I have managed and coordinated various events and enjoy taking part in fundraisers. So far whilst with Sikh Helpline I have been a part of a new volunteer drive with professionals from various backgrounds helping in events, taking calls on our recently updated system, organising workshops and claiming the first ever gift aid for Sikh Helpline, we want to work towards new initiatives and ideas to continuously improve Sikh Helpline services, so we can reach out even further to help and support others in need.

We are currently working on updating our safeguarding, data protection policies and procedures and within this creating a handbook for our volunteers and their journey with us at Sikh Helpline, we are providing ongoing training for our volunteers and working closely with our networks teams.

Working with our outreach services and raising awareness is a key and this is a great opportunity for me to work within our community tackling root issues as a team, educating and helping others.
